Daily Challenge 6.6

No review or problem today; I don't want to pile on too much stuff while you're traveling.

However, assuming that we don't meet tonight (Saturday), I would like to schedule two make-up sessions when you're back in town (perhaps next Monday and Tuesday) to recoup our losses from the last two missed meetings.

In general, as we move forward, I think Logan and I should try to meet consistently twice per week. Corbin is welcome to sit in if he's free, as always, but I don't think we should cancel/postpone meetings if he can't make it.
